Common Acronyms:

AOP (Appellation d'Origine Protégée): This French term guarantees the geographical origin of a wine and its adherence to traditional production methods.

IGP (Indication Géographique Protégée): This French term indicates that the wine comes from a specific geographical region and follows specific production rules while maintaining regional characteristics.

DOC (Denominazione di Origine Controllata): This Italian term signifies a controlled designation of origin. It ensures that the wine meets specific quality and production standards within a designated region.

DOCG (Denominazione di Origine Controllata e Garantita): This Italian term represents the highest level of quality and control for Italian wines. It guarantees the origin, quality, and adherence to strict production regulations.

Classified Wine:

You may notice French wines labeled as "Grand Cru" and "Grand Cru Classé". This indicates that the wine has been officially recognized and categorized based on quality, usually in specific wine regions.

"Grand Cru" refers to exceptional wines produced within a specific appellation or vineyard, showcasing high quality.

Wines labeled as "Grand Cru Classé" represent the pinnacle of excellence, characterized by outstanding quality, exceptional traits, and the ability to age gracefully.

Organic Wine:

Some of our wines are labeled as organic. Organic wines are made from grapes grown without synthetic pesticides or fertilizers. They prioritize natural methods to nurture the vines and protect the environment.

Sparkling wines and Champagne:

Brut: The term "Brut" refers to the dryness level of a sparkling wine. It is the most common style and usually means the wine is dry and not overly sweet. Brut sparkling wines pair well with a wide range of dishes or can be enjoyed on their own.

Extra Dry: Despite its name, "Extra Dry" actually means slightly sweeter than Brut. Extra Dry sparkling wines have a touch of sweetness, making them a great choice for those who prefer a slightly softer taste profile. They pair well with appetizers and can be enjoyed as an aperitif.
